

V7-UK-06-2008

Shock absorber for release type ZE

Application

Shock absorbers are meant for electrohydraulic release type ZE used mainly as brake release. Use of shock absorber provides continuous growth in braking force from the moment braking is commenced until complete braking (viz. soft braking). While releasing the brake, value of braking force reduces from highest value to zero.